Dubai Petroleum

Dubai Petroleum operates the offshore oil fields of Dubai: Fateh, Southwest Fateh, Falah and Rashid.

Fateh is the largest and the oldest of the four oil fields. His Highness the late Sheikh Rashid bin Saeed Al Maktoum personally named the field when it was discovered in 1966.

“Fateh” in Arabic means “good fortune”. The Field has been continuously developed since its discovery. Fateh has processing facilities, gas lift compression, a waterflood facility and the world’s most unique underwater storage facility with its storage vessels called “Khazzans”. Crude oil is loaded onto the tankers berthing at Fateh Field through our Single Point Mooring System (SPM).

Southwest Fateh was discovered in 1970 and is the second largest Dubai Petroleum oil field, with its own water injection and gas lift facilities. Oil production is transferred by pipeline to the Fateh Field for storage and export. The other two fields are the Falah Field, which was discovered in 1972, and the Rashid Field, which was discovered in 1973.

Dubai Petroleum looks forward to continued participation in the progress and development of Dubai.
